

Mary Betts

Mary is one of our lead montessori teachers at Mountain View Montessori. She began her journey in traditional education. She has earned a B.S. in Early Childhood Education from Bucknell University and most recently received her directors qualification in the state of Colorado. Over the course of the next several months, she will finish her Montessori Diploma program, through the North American Montessori Center. She has experience in play-based, hybrid, montessori, and traditional learning environments. Since discovering the Montessori Method, she has found a new love for learning and teaching and hopes to create a Montessori, nature-based learning environment for children of all ages to begin their journey to independence!

Outside of school, she loves to explore nature, thrift, and creating new memories with her friends and pups. She has a large family in Pennsylvania that she visits whenever possible!
